

Raquel Henry-Johnson

VP of Major Gifts

Raquel Henry-Johnson is a proud member of Pan Canal Alumni Association. As an alumnus of the Paraiso/Balboa High School Class of 1978, she is committed to the success of organization and enabling the association in achieving its goals and objectives. She has fond memories of her childhood and high school years growing up on the Canal Zone. Along with her parents and siblings were residents of Pedro Miguel, where a special bond was formed and still exists today with the residents of Pedro Miguel, Paraiso and Gamboa. That bond connects us all together and is the driving force behind this organization.

Raquel is a 20+ year Information Technology (IT) veteran of PepsiCo. During her tenure at PepsiCo, she gained a wealth of business knowledge as she progressively assumed positions of increased responsibility and leadership within IT. Raquel is currently the IT Director responsible for delivering streamlined processes resulting in increased capabilities across the IT organization. Her experience and leadership capabilities have proven instrumental in developing the business insights necessary to deliver integrated applications.

Outside of her corporate responsibilities, she is very involved in her community. Raquel currently chairs several committees as a board member of St. Monica School Advisory Council. She also serves as a mentor for teenage girls enrolled in the Education is Freedom program.

Raquel has several hobbies including scrapbooking, reading, and cake baking/decorating. She resides in Dallas, Texas with her husband Dwayne and their two daughters Candace and Nicole.
